MISSION STATEMENT

RELIGION INDEX ONE: PERIODICALS (RIO®)
AND RELIGION INDEX TWO: MULTI-AUTHOR WORKS (RIT®)

It shall be the purpose of RIO® and RIT® to index those articles in the field of religion—particularly religion and religious scholarship in the West—which are germane to research in and serve to document that field. The intended audience includes scholars, teachers, students who are engaged in the study of religion and related fields; clergy; other religious leaders; and the general reader in religion.

ATLA Index Board
June 1986

PREFACE

A periodical index can qualify as literature only under the broadest definition of that often abused term. In spite of appearances, what you hold in your hand is more like a map than a book; and our work as indexers is more comparable to a cartographer's than to that of a scribe. Within the chronological boundaries of this tome you will find directions toward many, if not most of the concepts, topics and personalities that preoccupied the thoughts (and perhaps prayers) of religious scholars, clerics, and practitioners around the world. Like any map, Religion Index One: Periodicals will not direct you everywhere you want to go, but we hope that, within the limitations of our stated intentions and deliberate explorations, it will provide you with an accurate and satisfying guide to the scholarship of religion and theology. Humility is not a difficult virtue for the religion indexer to cultivate. We are often reminded of Dr. Johnson, who when asked why there were so many errors in his famous Dictionary, replied, "Ignorance, sheer ignorance!"

This 27th annual edition contains 14,186 articles, indexed under 34,273 subject entries. Out of our cumulative list of 546 periodicals we have indexed articles from 485 of them. Four new publications have been included (Journal of Biblical Counseling, Religion & Theology, Theosophical History and The Orthodox Word) and four have ceased (Black Sacred Music, ESA Advocate, One World and Theologia Evangelica). In our 28th volume for 1996 we will include over a dozen new titles.

Lowell K. Handy has returned to RIO as our Senior Indexer/Analyst. We are more than happy to have him back. Carolyn K. Coates, Steven W. Holloway, and Mary Jo A. Johnson also contributed to the indexing for this volume. Theresa Susie Mendoza was in charge of data input. Chantal Jean-Baptiste kept the flow of journals under efficient control and was successful in retrieving many of the issues we have missed in previous years. Paul Jensen and the Information Services Team continue to provide the best in technical assistance.

We are grateful to our Executive Director, Albert E. Hurd, and to our Director of Operations, Dennis A. Norlin. And we are increasingly grateful to the ATLA Board of Directors for their leadership and guidance during the past year, and to the administration, staff, and membership of the American Theological Library Association.
